On the Campaign Trail: A Foreign Policy Perspective

Special Luncheon Discussion

Laura Rosenberger
Foreign Policy Advisor
Hillary for America Campaign

D. Raja
Chairman
Republican Committee of Allegheny County

In the run up to elect the next President of the United States, concerns and issues surrounding national security and foreign policy continue to be voiced by presidential candidates from all sides of the political debate. A growing threat in the Middle East, a historically low global price in oil, and the rising influence of China are just a few of the key topics that affect not just the United States, but America's relations with countries around the world.

Join us for a special luncheon discussion to hear both the Republican and Democratic perspectives on these key foreign policy issues.

Laura Rosenberger, a Pittsburgh native, currently serves as the Foreign Policy Advisor for Hillary for America, where she develops the campaign's national security policies, messaging, and strategy. Prior to joining the campaign, she served for over a decade in a range of foreign policy and national security positions at the State Department and the White House's National Security Council (NSC).

D. Raja is the newest Chairman of the Republic Committee of Allegheny County. Raja is a former Mt. Lebanon commissioner who ran for state Senate in 2012 and county executive in 2011. As commissioner, he led the initiative to address budget issues and reduce taxes. He is the co-founder of the software company CEI, or Computer Enterprises, Inc., in Robinson.
